THE MAYOR'S ORGAN.

The fact that the Commercial so promptly announces itself as the organ of Mayor Bass should be a sufficient confirmation of our statement that he is laboring among the worst elements of the community, for that journal could be of no service to him outside of his own peculiar field. We have a very definite idea of what constitutes the "worst elements" in this as in other communities, and we emphatically protest against the gratuitous insult offered by the Commercial to some of the worst classes of our citizens, in applying such a phrase to the industrious laborers mechanics and clerks of our city, and the honest farmers of our suburbs No outside person no person who respects honest toil would think for a moment of applying the words that fitly describe the class which is furnishing Mayor Bass with his most zealous workers, to those who constitute a large portion of our most intelligent respectable and useful citizens The attempt to raise a distinction between the respectability of wealth and that of honest toil, is made by the Mayor's organ and not by us, but it miscalculates the common-sense of the public when it seeks to place votes for its candidate by thus making such out in the eyes of the labor-ing men

Dealing with the Commercial, we regard the men who earn their way by sober hard and honorable industry whether on the farm, in the workshop, at the forge or in the counting room as among the best elements of society They are men who respect the laws, who live quietly in their homes and an interest in good government. We regard the men who have labored to counteract the ruinous influence of free rum under the present administration as public benefactors, and cordially award a high meed of praise to the Catholic Society whose humane efforts reclaimed so large a number of the drunkards of 1873 The Mayor's champion will strike nearer to the worst elements of our population, if it will tell us whether every keeper of a rum groggery, every character under espionage of the police every attache of the lowest dens of vice, is not arrayed on its side in this municipal contest It is from these sources always dangerous to the public that the boasting and menance proceed

Last year a caucus called by sincere men in the interest of reform was captured by a crowd of political strikers gathered by Democratic managers and Mr Bass was forced upon the meeting as a candidate Many voted for him at the polls in the hope that his promises would bear some fruit, and others supported him for the novelty of the thing Very few of those citizens are anxious for a continuance of the experiment. The leaders of the Reform movement have repudiated the card date of a packed convention, and they refused to issue another call this year A strong pressure was brought to bear on a gentleman who presided at last year's citizens' caucus to append his name to a call but he was earnestly dissuaded from such action, and Mayor Bass was compelled to call his adherents together with no other authority than "per order" Considering that the caucus was called by the Mayor, that all its arrangements have been made in his interest, and that his own nomination is its only object, there is a deliciously cool favor in the Commercial's assertion that whatever doubt there may have been as to the choice of the caucus, the structures of this journal have assured the nomination of Mayor Bass' We are really unwilling that His Honor should give us any credit for an event which he has so thoroughly arranged for himself

The claim that the Mayor's economical impulses have been restrained by an adverse majority in the two Boards, would make a quite appropriate inscription to place over the doors of that Court street edifice upon which he has expended several thousand dollars in spite of the protest of the City Council No attempt is made to deny that the expenditures have increased under an administration that promised a large reduction, and the gilt statement that if the Mayor had been allowed full swing with the finances he would have reduced the expenses one-quarter, is what our good friend Dr Ladd would expressively call "flap-jiddle The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the people are not anxious to feed on empty promises for another year

The facts are—as plainly understood by every citizen who wishes to see the truth—that instead of reducing expenditures they have been greater than before, that drunkenness has been fostered at a frightful rate, the arrestation of our streets increasing one hundred per cent in a single year that the Mayor's persistence in having his own way, whether right or wrong has impaired the efficiency of nearly every department of our public service, and that with one of the most unsatisfactory records ever presented by a municipal administration, he asks to be re elected and to have a City Council willing to give him unlimited control This modest request has been advertised under the head of "Retrenchment and Reform" and those who like the kind which Mayor Bass has given us, should go to City Hall to-night to see him nominated

The Democrats made a queer, flank movement in Portland Saturday by nominating a radical temperance man, Capt. Cyrus Sturtevant, as their candidate for Mayor. Mr. Sturtevant is a worthy merchant and estimable citizen, the leader of the Allen Mission and Temperance Mission, and although always voting the Democratic ticket, strongly favors the shutting up of every grog-shop and bringing about of the complete enforcement of the present prohibitory liquor law. At the Friday evening mass meeting, preceding his nomination, Mr Sturtevant renounced emphatically his allegiance to any political party that will not oppose the rum traffic—The people were evidently distrustful of the sudden zeal of the Democrats for the prohibitory law which they have always denounced as a party, and the worthy Republican candidate, Mayor Wescott, was handsomely elected.

The Lewiston Journal unites with this paper, the Portland Press and Argus and several other journals in expressing surprise That the bill compelling railroads to furnish facilities of connection, has been again defeated by the influence of a single corporation; and hopes that the Senate will not adjourn without revising its action on this measure.

An invitation by a G. A. R. Post, of Rome, N. Y., to Raphael Semmes to lecture in their course on the "Cruise of the Alabama" or any other subject, having been cited as evidence that "animosities are dying out," the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser remarks that "if anybody in Central New York, or elsewhere wants to listen to a lecture from one of the most cowardly pirates that the world ever saw, there can be no objection to it, but it hopes that these war "animosities" seem to be "dying out" only on one side. Does anyone hear, it asks, of any Southern lyceums or associations sending invitations to any of the gallant defenders of the Union and asking them to lecture on any subject they may see fit to choose'

The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to sell $3,000,000 of gold in the month of March, as follows On the first and third Thursdays each $1,000,000, and on the second and fourth Thursdays each $500,000

Ex-President Baez of Santo Domingo has been arrested in New York on the application of Davis Hatch of South Norwalk Connecticut, who brings an action for damages charging the ex President with conspiring against his liberty, wealth and life, while he was a resident of Santo Domingo. Baez was admitted to bail in $35,000.

THE ENGLISH UNIVERSITY RACE. The English University boat race will be rowed March 28. Both crews satisfy their friends better than last year, and are rowing strenuously, Cambridge having rather the advantage Four of the Cambridge men, stroke and coxswain, were in last year's victorious boat, and two of the Oxford men served in last year's crew

MANUFACTURING AT AUBURN The Lewiston Journal publishes a very full statement of the industrial activities of Auburn for the past year, the result of careful and painstaking investigation and inquiry This statement shows a very gratifying growth of the business interests of the city during the past year as compared with the preceding year There has been an increase of about 25 per cent in the volume of manufacturing in 1873 over 1872—not taking into account the manufacturing at Barker's mill, which started up at the close of the year There are nearly four millions of capital invested in manufacturing of all kinds in Auburn, of which only a little over half a million is corporate capital The consumption of leather in Auburn in 1873 is estimated at seven millions of pounds The business of manufacturing in all departments in Auburn, in 1873, aggregates nearly five millions of dollars. 3478 hands are employed, including the force at Barker mill of whom 3077 are men and women engaged in manufacture, who, in 1873, were paid wages amounting to over three quarters of a million of dollars The manufactures outside of boots and shoes in Auburn this year will probably reach a million dollars. Last year (not including Barker mill) miscellaneous manufactures reached an aggregate of about half a million of dollars.

BUTLER'S TRIUMPH The Boston Advertiser's Washington special says "it is impossible to exaggerate the exultation of Butler and his friends over their success in the Senate They say it will henceforth be a combined battle against what they term the 'blue blood' of Boston, that it is the first move in the next fall's campaign for the Governorship, and that nothing can stand in the way of success As for any obstacles in the shape of office-holders, they claim to be able to remove them without difficulty, and they intend to begin in time Butler's friends a sert that in this matter they have had the assistance of Democrats both in New England and in the Senate, and they do not hesitate to affirm that they look to a possible consolidation with the Democrats, and to the certain union with all elements and all forces that can be arrayed against capital, and in hostility to what they call "class distinctions"

SUMNER ON THE CENTENNIAL The debate on the Centennial Exposition bids fair to be protracted Mr Sumner's argument Friday against the international feature, was a powerful one, and was listened to with marked attention He held that it would be improper to make the exhibition a world's fair or to invite the monarchs and potentates of Europe to join us in celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of American independence, of the birthpin fact, of Republican principles When the scheme was proposed Congress heard nothing in regard to making an international exhibition of the commemoration The Commissioners had departed from the original idea and taken the liberty of making an effort to make it a world's fair A National celebration, said the Senator, is much but both combined, are too much Mr Thurman said that but one first rate power had accepted the invitation to participate in the exhibition Germany Mr Ramsey said another first class power, Sweden, had accepted, and he sent up to the Clerk's desk a dispatch, which was read, stating that the Diet of Sweden has passed an appropriation to defray the expenses of Commissioners to the exhibition

KING COFFEE AND THE WAR FETISH In a letter from Sierra Leone, published in the London Times, we read "There are many curious stories afloat about the King of Ashantee's proceedings now that his territory is being invaded The following is a fair specimen of them and illustrates well the extreme superstition of the Ashantees, showing by what influences Coffee Calcalli is popularly supposed to be guided and on what councilors he is supposed to rely in the present crisis. Coffee Calcalli, the story goes, recently summoned a great meeting of his Fetish men, and sought their advice as to how he should act towards the English, whether he ought to seek for peace or stake his fortunes on the result of the war The Fetish men at first declined to give any answer until they had been convinced that, no matter what their reply was their lives should not be forfeited Having been reassured on this point, they then replied that they saw everything dark except the streets of Coomassie, which ran with blood Coffee Calcalli was dissatisfied with the vagueness of this reply and determined to appeal still further to the oracle. He forced a what he considered a final and conclusive test. Two he-goats were selected, one entirely black, the other of a spotless white color, and after due Fetish ceremonies had been performed over the two goats, they were set at each other The white goat easily overcame and killed his opponent. Coffee Calcalli, after this test, was satisfied that he was doomed to defeat at the hands of the white men He immediately sent the embassy to Sir Garnet Wolseley to seek for peace."

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

A Mississippi postmistress has discharged her husband from a clerkship for non-attendance to duty.

Colonel Tappan and other prominent Liberals of New Hampshire will support Mr. McCutchins for Governor. Not that they love McCutchins and the Republican party more, but rum and Weston less.

If Senators Logan and Oglesby ever supposed Chicago and the business interests which they represent wanted inflation, they must have been effectually disabused of that opinion by this time.—[Chicago Journal (Rep)

The question arises again, "What is the Democratic policy?" The World says it is "hard money" in finance. The Cincinnati Enquirer says it is paper money, and more of it. They are both Democratic authority, and we are puzzled.

The House Committee on Naval Affairs have agreed to report a bill to cover into the Treasury the remainder of the Chinese and Japanese indemnity. The amount of this fund is now some $800,000 There are claims upon the fund for the loss of two ships.

The Massachusetts Senate has passed a ten-hour bill, which provides that women and children under 18 years of age, shall not be employed in establishments for the manufacture of textile fabrics, threads, yarns or worsteds, more than 60 hours a week, or an average of 10 hours a day. Each offense is punishable by a fine of $50.

"Parley" remarks that the "painstaking genius who has come to the front with the well-authenticated statement that no United States Senator was ever made President" has evidently never known, or has forgotten that John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson, Martin Van Buren, Franklin Pierce, and James Buchanan served in the United States Senate, and that John Tyler and Andrew Johnson were also members of that body.

COLLISION ON THE MAINE CENTRAL. Last evening about 6 o'clock a special freight train bound South and a wood train bound North, collided on the Maine Central railroad about a half mile south of Winslow station. The engineers reversed their engines as soon as they discovered each other, and the speed of the trains was thus somewhat checked, but not enough to prevent a collision which generally demolished the locomotives. Fortunately no one on either train was much hurt, though some all were considerably shaken up, and a brakeman, who was, on the engine of the wood train, jumped from it, and could not leave it, received some bruises. The freight train had the right to the road.

The wood train passed Augusta station while the station men were at supper, and without stopping to enquire if any extras were signalled. The special freight was signalled or the train bound South, and by rule was entitled to the track over any extra bound North. The Pullman night train were run over the upper route, via Lewiston. A strong force of trackmen and other employes was set at work to clear away the wreck as soon as possible after the accident, and the track will probably be clear this morning.

A SIMPLE BAROMETER The following mixture is said to make a very good barometer, it being very sensitive to weather changes Mix 1½ drachms of camphor, dissolved in 10 drachms of alcohol, with 40 grains of saltpetre and 10 grains of sal ammoniac in 9 drachms of water. The mixture should be placed in a four ounce vial, with a piece of cloth tied over its mouth, and placed in a good light, out of the sunshine, where it can be observed without handling. When the weather is fine the fluid is clear, but on the slightest change the chemicals rise from the bottom in beautiful frond like crystals

THE COMING YEARS

The glorious coming years,
The strong, victorious years,—
Our pr phecies them far upon the way;
With the trumpet and with song,
Before the advancing throng
Shall be the standard of the welcome day.

The great millennial years,
The fruitful harvest years
Are sure to bloom when we shall not see.
Patient of we forego
The no need may row
Which is that century shall be a tree

O World of want and wrong!
O World, despairing long!
Our hopes are strong for thee, our hands are full,
Our prayers which have wrought,
Having then answers naught—
The fruitful e ls grand and beautiful!

For every hopeful plan—
All help from man to man,—
Rain where the hosts of true reform advance,
The dawn of light and good,—
Though yet scarce understood—
Shall keep their armies safe from sore mischance

Than every throned Ill
Our faith sits higher still,—
High as the Throne where Right with God appears
So lifted over fate,
So strong to work and wait,
Are they who count on the Eternal years.

CURING NAILS—Every farmer who has occasion to drive a nail into seasoned oak posts knows that it is liable to bend and break—It the point be moistened in the mouth it will usually drive more kindly: Oil is better, but then it is inconvenient to dip each nail separately into it. Another point is, that boards become loose eventually from the rusting nails, which communicating the wood causes not only a enlargement of the nail hole but the wearing away of the nail itself, rendering the fence or building shaky and insecure. This may be prevented by heating any rough grease until it smokes and then pour it over the nails to be used. The grease will penetrate the pores of the iron and preserve the nails to last without rusting for an indefinite period. Besides this no difficulty will then be experienced in driving them in to the hardest wood. The reason is that the coating of grease prevents contact by air, and consequently oxidation. Oxygen is the great destroyer of iron and moisture is the inducing cause. Anything that is kept from air is preserved indefinitely, and if it is only dry the effect is measurably the same—Tar upon buildings prevents the contact of air, demonstrate. If the whole fence cannot be painted, the heads at least of the nails should be touched.

TEETH IN THE FIRE OR $200 ON THE TABLE—The following story gives a good idea of the drinking style of the last century. This was what our grandfathers took for humor. Two young English noblemen were paying a visit to Lord Panmure, at Brechin Castle. One day he wrote a letter to Panlathe a friend of his, to come and dine with him at the same time he ordered him to bring a sum of money. Panlathe was aware when he received the order that something was to be done. After dinner Lord Panmure gave the first toast, which was, "All bats in the hat for $20 on the table." Four hats were immediately in the fire. One of the English noblemen gave the next toast, "All coats in the fire, or $200 on the table." Four coats were committed to the flames. The other Lord, human gave the next toast, "All boots in the fire, or $200 on the table." The whole of the boots were committed to the flames—Panlathe's toast came next, which was, "Take your teeth in the fire or $200 on the table." When Panlathe pulled his teeth out and threw them in the fire. The English noblemen looked amazed. He had false teeth unknown to them, and Panlathe went home without hat, coat, or boots, but with $800 in his pocket. Lord P thought much of his friend after that.

AGRICULTURE IN BERMUDA—Although three crops of vegetables can be raised annually, still agriculture is in a very backward state and most of the fruits enumerated are specially rather than generally cultivated.—In the early colonial days it was the chief occupation of the people, but was afterward abandoned for other pursuits, and after the introduction of slavery the land was mostly tilled by slaves, a certain class degrade attached to the kind of labor. Ignorance reigned in the fields, and it is only recently that an attempt has been made to wrest them from its sway. The most progressive men are now deeply interested in the subject, and strong efforts are being made to induce the people to cultivate something besides the stereotyped onion, potato, tomato and arrowroot, the last said to be the best in the world, though the quantity raised is constantly diminishing, as it exhausts the soil, and does not prove as remunerative as some other crops

Small patches of land are selected here and there, are carefully spaded—the plow not being in common use—and from them the surprising large crops are realized. The land is quite generally enclosed by the oleander, and its prevalence proves upon it, all creatures that feed on it do so, from the cattle down to the specially tied. The poor things have that resigned look peculiar to individuals linked to anything from which they are too weak or too stupid to escape

One great drawback to the colony has been the lack of regular steam communication with New York. The government now pays a subsidy to induce steamers to run to Bermuda and in the great crop season, during the months of April, May and June, weekly trips are made. At other seasons they run once in twenty days. The value of exports last year, 187 has been about $350,000, or an increase of $50,000 over that for the year 1872. The ready market which is secured by steam communication, the introduction of improved farming utensils, the increased demand which it will be made for products which the country can so easily supply, will make of Bermuda ere long that which she is so well fitted—the garden of New York.—Harper's Magazine for March.

Prospectus for 1874,

Seventh Year.

The Aldine,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale at Book or News Stores

THE ALDINE will be used with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of other periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature and a collection of pictures the finest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white, that any one subscriber affords a fresh pleasure to the friends the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up, at the close of the year. While other periodicals may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have now a world wide reputation, and in this art centre all those in whom is manifested that love of the beautiful and discriminating appreciation of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of steel plates is rapidly yielding to a more educated taste, and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the costly steel; but, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original,

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America it is only necessary to consider the cost to the public of any other double representations of the productions of great painters

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will present, every month, a chromo lithograph, executed with a view to the highest artistic excellence and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influence of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thomas Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1871 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original plate so widely painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Color ing picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subject we have chosen for our pair is "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire the other gives The Golden Green River Wyoming Territory. The artistic merit of these pictures, and the attractiveness of the subjects, is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good field for the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each printed from fifty distinct stones and are in size (12x18) and appearance exact facsimiles of the originals. The presents both of a worthy example of American grandeur in landscape painting to the subscriber's home. THE ALDINE was sold but positively happy lives and its successful circulation is attested by the following testimonial over the signature of Mr. Moran himself

NEWARK, N J, Sept 20th, 1873.

MESSRS JAMES SUTTON & Co

Gentlemen—I am delighted with the proofs in color of your chromos They are wonderfully successful reproductions by mechanical process of the original paintings

Very respectfully
(Signed) THOS MORAN

These chromos are in every sense American They are by an original American process, with materials of American manufacture, from designs of American paintings by an American painter, and presented to subscribers as the first successful American art journal. It is the better because, of this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can rival and neither do they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, which equal to every expect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE Persons not satisfied with these pictures by themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home" a new and beautiful chromo, 16x20 inches in size, representing a little Italian girl whose speak by eyes betray the longings of her heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtained only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate, cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the receipt is given, bearing the facsimile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.

No. 591 NORTH MAIN STREET,
PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 1, 1873

Dr. F. W. Kinsman, Augusta, Maine

Two years ago last September I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs; the cold hung by me and I tried a cough dry and very painful. I used various kinds of syrup recommended by friends who noticed my condition, but with no relief. My physician prescribed Wistaby, and then Cod Liver Oil I took three quarts of the oil, and not being relieved I commenced taking Schenck's Pulmonic syrup, which took about several bottles, Miller's Expectorant four bottles, and some four or five other remedies, continually growing weaker, losing my appetite, and about giving up all hope of any relief in fact, I was marked by my family, and about every person that I met, as sure to die

But to a change took place One day last winter a circular was thrown in my office, which advertised Adamson's Botanic Balsam, (thank God). I read that circular very carefully, put on my cost and walked to the Apothecary's and bought one bottle. I commenced taking it regularly, and as per directions. Before I had used half a bottle I noticed a change I then purchased a bottle, and meaning business, went through a course of taking, continually growing better, lost my night, cough entirely gone, and to-day I can do as much business in one hour as I could in one day right months ago I am able to attend to business, and generally speaking, feel good all over This all comes by use of Adamson's Balsam

I unsolicitedly recommend it to everybody similarly afflicted, and can this day give you the name and residence of at least fifty persons who have been cured of cough and colds by its use. I also urged a friend of mine who is in business with me, to use this article to his stock he did so and sold ninety bottles in less than a fortnight, and I have met heard of any one who is disatisfied

I would as soon think of having property uninsured against loss by fire as to keep house without a good supply of Adamson s Balsam in my house.

With assurance of my highest regard, I am gratefully yours, &c.
